SIXTY TON MILL CONTRACTED FOR
BY JIM GOLDEN FOR KLONDIKE

Jim Golden has finally financed the construction of a mill on the claims of the Klondike Mining Company. The cost of this improvement will be $25,000 and until it is completed in the course of 60 days there will be no hurry to continue heavier work in the camp south of Tonopah. The mill will be on the cyanide basis with 10 stamps and a capacity for treating 60 tons daily, and Golden estimates that he will clear up $200,000 a year as the result of the installation of the mill. This is based on the treatment of $16 ore, of which 30,000 tons are broken of that average value.

The property is working on good ore with eight sets of leasers busy and shipping at the rate of five tons a day. The last shipment netted the leasers $155 a carload and this will be improved as soon as the mill starts going. The leasers are Bill Jones, Eli Sweiger, Hal Brierley, Hans Weirick, Henry Martin, Jimmy Mulligan and Mike Callahan. Five other men are working directly for Golden but the latter end of the mine is going slowly owing to the company having contracted for $25,000 to build a mill on the ground of the original Klondike Mining Company. This has incorporated the original Klondike Extension company and consists of five claims with a strong ledge of $50 ore, which was opened last week and gives every evidence of going down. An abundant supply of water is available by pumping and it is expected that a saving of 93 per cent will be effected. In addition to the 30,000 tons broken there are 30,000 tons blocked out that should average $20 a ton. The shaft is down 250 feet and in no place does the ore show signs of pinching out or impoverishing in drifts and winzes that extend over 4000 feet. When the mill begins working it is the intention to treat dump rock and sink a double compartment shaft to a depth of 700 feet, making crosscuts to catch the ore as they go down. This is in anticipation as the ore will not be needed for a couple of years. The mill insures relief from selling stock, as the proceeds will take care of all expenses and the profits may be applied to development.

Mr. James F. Golden has been a steady and consistent advocate of Klondike Wells and has stuck to that camp when others were prone to knock and say the country was not of permanent formation. The development under the Golden management has been of the best and most efficient, and when the owner says his mill will be a success it may be assumed that he knows what he is talking of.

STRANGE ASSOCIATION

An unusual case of animal adoption is reported from J. A. Swall's place near Bishop. A pair of motherless pigs of few days and full of trouble were taken care of by a female setter dog and are thriving under the care of their strange foster mother.—Inyo Register.
